About us -

The Emerging World is an English daily Broadsheet newspaper published from national capital Delhi and Palamu in Jharkhand. Established in 2011, the newspaper has gained a widespread readership owing to its high-quality reporting and engaging content. Both editions of The Emerging World are empanelled with CBC, which is a testament to the newspaper's credibility and authenticity. The publication is particularly popular among young and dynamic individuals who value accurate and unbiased news coverage.

At "The Emerging World," our team of experienced journalists and writers is dedicated to delivering insightful and comprehensive coverage of a wide range of topics. Our readers can expect to find in-depth analysis and thought-provoking articles on a diverse array of subjects, including politics, economy, society, tourism, sports, arts and culture, glamour, fashion, life and style, entertainment, career, and much more. We believe in presenting news and views with a fresh and unique perspective, one that challenges conventional wisdom and offers a refreshing take on current affairs. Our aim is to provide our readers with a broad range of perspectives, allowing them to form their own opinions and make informed decisions.

At "The Emerging World," we are committed to playing a positive and constructive role in the nation's development and progress. We recognize the pivotal role that India's youth play in shaping the country's future, and our newspaper is tailored to meet their needs and interests. Our focus is on providing a platform for young and dynamic individuals to express their views and opinions, to stay informed and engaged, and to drive positive change in society.
